Michael Lelah, PhD: NOW Food's Technical Director

My name is Michael Lelah, and I am the Technical Director at NOW Foods. I have had the pleasure of joining this great company at the end of January, 2004. I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to you, and to tell you a little about my vision for our company, and how it impacts you.

I come from over 20 years experience in research and development, quality management, and manufacturing in pharmaceutical, healthcare, food, packaging, and plastic product companies. I am an accomplished scientist, with a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. I have research publications and patents in diabetes, vascular grafts, antimicrobials and biomaterials. From this scientific base, I have developed many new ophthalmic, diabetic, inhalation, and medical device products. I have worked very hard to ensure that these products are needed, and do what they are supposed to do.

Aside from my medical products expertise, I am very interested and committed to natural products. I have been looking for some time for alternative therapies for my daughter, who has Crohn's disease. While on business trips to China and other parts of Asia, I took the opportunity to look into Chinese medicine and other herbal treatments for her, which further increased my interest in the natural products industry.

A few years ago, I had some ideas for a line of natural food-derived dietary supplements. I researched these ideas, developed some test samples, and put together a business plan. However, economic times were tough, and I was not able to get enough investors to start a company based on these ideas. Now I have another chance to turn some of these ideas into reality.

In addition to my interests and accomplishments in developing new and innovative products, I am experienced in the highest degree of quality standards - and am trained in the rigorous standards of pharmaceutical manufacturing. These involve quality assurance - building in quality into everything that we do, and quality control - measuring quality and ensuring that standards are met. I bring this discipline and expertise to help NOW Foods continue to raise the bar in product quality.

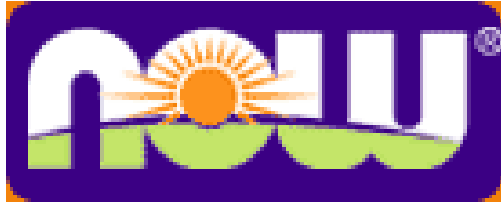

As I look to the future, I would like to integrate NOW Foods' strong existing technical expertise with creative leaders in our field, and use our disciplined quality standards to deliver world-class, innovative products and services that will help improve your lives. My commitment to you is that, with the help of my colleagues at NOW Foods, I will do everything possible to ensure that our products and services will help enrich your lives. I am excited about the line of new quality products that you will be seeing from NOW Foods in the future.

I would love to hear from you about any new products you would like to see us develop. Comments on what quality means to you, your experiences with our products, or any questions you may have are also welcome. Please feel free to contact me at michael.lelah@nowfoods.com.

I wish you well - good health and happiness.

Michael

HEALTHCO – A DIVISION OF NOW FOODS

In 1968, NOW Foods was founded under the belief that good health was not a luxury available only to the wealthy. For the past forty years, we have made it our life's work to offer health food and nutritional supplements of the highest quality, at prices that are fair and affordable to all those who seek them.

Today, NOW Foods is one of the top-selling brands in health foods stores, an award-winning manufacturer, a respected advocate of the natural product industry, and a leader in the fields of nutritional science and methods development. And while we have grown considerably over the past four decades, one thing has never changed – our commitment to providing products and services that empower people to lead healthier lives.
